

KIDNEYS ACT FINE AFTER A FEW DOSES

The Most Severe Backache or Any Bladder and Urinary Misery Will Simply Vanish.

The real treacherous and danger in kidney trouble is because the first symptoms are always seen in other parts of the body before anything wrong is noticed with the kidneys themselves.

The moment you suspect any kidney, bladder or urinary disorder, or feel a dull, constant backache or the urine is thick, cloudy or offensive or full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a searing sensation, begin taking Pape's Diuretic as directed with the knowledge that there is no other medicine at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which is so harmless or will effect so thorough and prompt a cure.

Put an end to kidney trouble while it is only trouble—before it develops into dropsy, gravel, diabetes or Bright's disease.

Pape's Diuretic acts directly upon the kidneys, bladder and urinary system; cleanses, heals and regulates these organs, ducts and glands, and completes the cure within a few days.

Pains in the back, sides or loins, rheumatic twinges, debilitating headache, nervousness, dizziness, bilious stomach, prostatic trouble, sleeplessness, inflamed or puffy eyelids, weakness, worn-out feeling and many other symptoms caused by clogged, inactive kidneys promptly vanish. Kidneys painful and uncontrollable urination, due to weak or irritable bladder, is overcome.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will vouch for the responsibility of Pape, Thompson & Pape of Cincinnati, who prepare Pape's Diuretic—50-cent treatment—sold by every druggist in the world.

Father McGarvey of Windsor, Rev. Father O'Neil of Northfield and the resident priest, Rev. Father O'Donnell. More than 150 people were present, and the ceremony was very impressive.

New York P. S. C. Criticized.

The resignation of Henry B. Seaman, chief engineer of the public service commission for the first district, and the reasons he gives for his act will confirm and increase the distrust in which that body is held by the community. Its inefficiency has been proved in numerous cases in which the man in the street is entirely able to form a sound judgment. The benefits promised to passengers on the local transportation lines when the commission was created have not been forthcoming. Endowed with extensive powers, it has accomplished next to nothing of good. These things have been patent to everybody.

But Mr. Seaman's charges reveal the commission in a new light. It is asserted by him that against the advice of its own engineers and over their protests, a method of increasing compensation was adopted, which on the face of it looks perilously like favoritism, and which appears to have been designed to help the contractors out, with little or no consideration for the taxpayers. Mr. Seaman does not hesitate to call the act of the commission an "irregular arrangement," and he makes this significant remark:

"If proceedings of this kind are to continue on $120,000,000 contracts, some one will get into trouble."

In short, Mr. Seaman declares that he was called on to "fake estimates." It is plain that this is something no self-respecting engineer could do. The situation in which Mr. Seaman's resignation and subsequent explanations have put the commission, is at least embarrassing. The board has jurisdiction over the most important questions before the city, and it will not win confidence without making a complete and detailed answer to the accusations that Mr. Seaman brings against it.—New York Sun.

MONTPELIER.

Deaths of Two Well-Known Residents of Capital City.

Fred L. Gray, a resident of Montpelier nearly all his life, died last night at his home on Barre street, after a two years' illness with Bright's disease. He had been a traveling salesman for the Sartwell, Reinhold and Humphrey company of Boston, the United Clothing Pin company and Lester H. Green company of this city. He was prominent in social and fraternal societies, being an Odd Fellow, a Mason, a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, a member of the New England's Fat Men's club, vice president of the Men's Forum of Bethlehem church of this city and a member of White Mountain lodge, United Commercial travelers. He was born in Calais, May 8, 1861, and was married November 30, 1882, to Miss Ida Titus of Wolcott, by whom he is survived. His father, brother, step-brother and step-mother survive him.

Mrs. Phoebe Ames Griswold died Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Boardman, after a general decline, due to old age. She was born in Craftsbury, March 2, 1822, the daughter of Moses and Lydia Pennock Mason, and was married in 1845, to William Griswold, going to Michigan to reside. Of four children, born to Mr. and Mrs. Griswold, only two survive, Adelaide of New York City and Mrs. Boardman of Montpelier. Two sisters of the deceased, Mrs. Candace Stone and Mrs. Boardman C. Shaw, live respectively in Lyndonville and Morrisville. In 1840, Mrs. Griswold became a member of a church in Ware, Mass., and joined Bethany church when she came to Montpelier. She never lost her keenness of intellect and kept herself informed on all the progressive questions of the day. Her funeral was held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. S. F. Blenheim officiating, with interment in Green Mount cemetery.

Jose Maranon and Erminda Lastra were married Saturday by justice of the peace B. W. Bailey, at the home of V. Aja.

Miss Gertrude F. Hamilton graduated yesterday as a nurse from Boston hospital, having completed her two years' course.

The governor's reception will be held Wednesday evening at the State House, when the Montpelier military band will be in attendance.

Grover Buck, a graduate of the high school last June, has been appointed assistant to the Y. M. C. A. general secretary, George Buck.

The electrical contract for the city hall has been let to Pettengill-Andrews company of Boston, who will have the equipment installed in time for the governor's ball.

The last band concert of the season was given Friday evening and won many words of appreciation from listeners. The band has been much complimented for its concert this summer.

Harold W. Lamb, a brother of Mrs. E. E. Gee of this city, was married September 26, in Franklin, N. H., to Miss Marion A. Bean. They will reside in Franklin, where Mr. Lamb is a printer.

H. W. Allen and family left Saturday for Portland, Me., where they are to reside. Mr. Allen, who has been the advertising manager of the Montpelier Journal, has accepted a position in the same capacity on the Portland Express.

Saturday's high wind did considerable damage to trees and electric wires. A limb from a tree fell across the trolley wires near the corner of Barre and Hubbard streets, delaying the electric car service about two hours; wires on State street, near the Riverside, were torn down, two large trees on the Burgess property and one in front of the residence of Charles Limoges on Main street were blown over and linemen of the electric companies were kept busy making repairs.

Fire in a room at the Riverside, occupied by Miss Jessie Fay, destroyed a trunk of clothing just packed for her departure to New York on the night train, the accident happening yesterday afternoon. Miss Fay had lighted a small gas stove and left the room for a few minutes. Upon her return, she found that a coat, which she had left hanging over the stove, had caught fire and fallen into the trunk, setting fire to all the contents. No damage was done to the room, and the clothing alone was insured for $500. Miss Fay has been employed in the Simpson millinery store.

Articles of association have been filed at the office of the secretary of state by the Surrogate Department, showing a capital stock of $10,000. The company will locate at Rutland and is to deal in clothing, wearing apparel, dry goods, all kinds of foot wear and other merchandise. The signers are Robert Kamber of New York, Joseph Frana and Israel Bergstein of Burlington. The Fort Dunmore Mills company of Brattleboro has also filed articles of association and is organized to purchase and hold lands and any other real estate, and to erect and operate them for the manufacture of yarns and textile fabrics, to buy and sell them and the raw material used in making them. The signers are Edwin F. Chase of Providence, R. I., Dennison Cowles and Clark C. Fitts of Brattleboro. The company has a capital stock of $450,000.

Another Honor for Walter Baker & Co.

The managers of the Dominion exhibition, St. John, New Brunswick, have awarded a gold medal to Walter Baker & Co., Ltd.

This is the fifty-third highest award from the leading international and local exhibitions in this country and Europe for the superiority of the cocoa and chocolate preparations manufactured by Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., of Dorchester, Mass.

It is of considerable interest to lovers of cocoa and chocolate to know that the average annual consumption of cocoa in this country for a period of three years has increased to 103,216,893 pounds—the highest on record for the same length of time.

This is due no doubt to a better knowledge of the laws of health, a growing appreciation of the value of cocoa as an ideal food beverage and to the general superiority and excellence of the preparations put out by the Baker company.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Lyman H. Howe's Pictures at Barre Opera House Wednesday.

"How did you ever manage to get that picture?" asked the reporter of Lyman H. Howe, referring to a pictorial reproduction of the eruption of Mt. Etna.

"It's what might be called an accidental picture—the kind I value most, because that kind is the most wonderful," said Mr. Howe.

"Are such pictures numerous?" inquired the reporter.

"No; unfortunately for me, but fortunately for my photographers," said Mr. Howe.

"Supreme moments of convulsive nature such as this also mean moments of supreme danger and often a crippled photographer—or a casualty or two. In the life of the motion photographer it is the unexpected that often happens, just as in other vocations, and when this picture was taken it was the unexpected that happened, as you see."

"But how did you anticipate that anything would happen at all? Why did you expect that the volcano would become active at just the time your photographer was there—for such eruptions do not take place on any scheduled time?" was the next query from the reporter.

"Now, young man, you're seeking inside information, but since you have asked that question I will answer it. The reason that the photographer was there at all lies deeper than mere accident. For one thing, the editor's definition of a good newspaper man applies exactly to my photographers. A successful editor, he said, is one who knows where trouble is going to break loose next and has a man there to cover it. When my photographer in Naples cabled me of ominous rumblings in Mt. Etna, he got an immediate reply to abandon his other plans and concentrate his efforts to get a real moving picture of a real eruption at all costs."

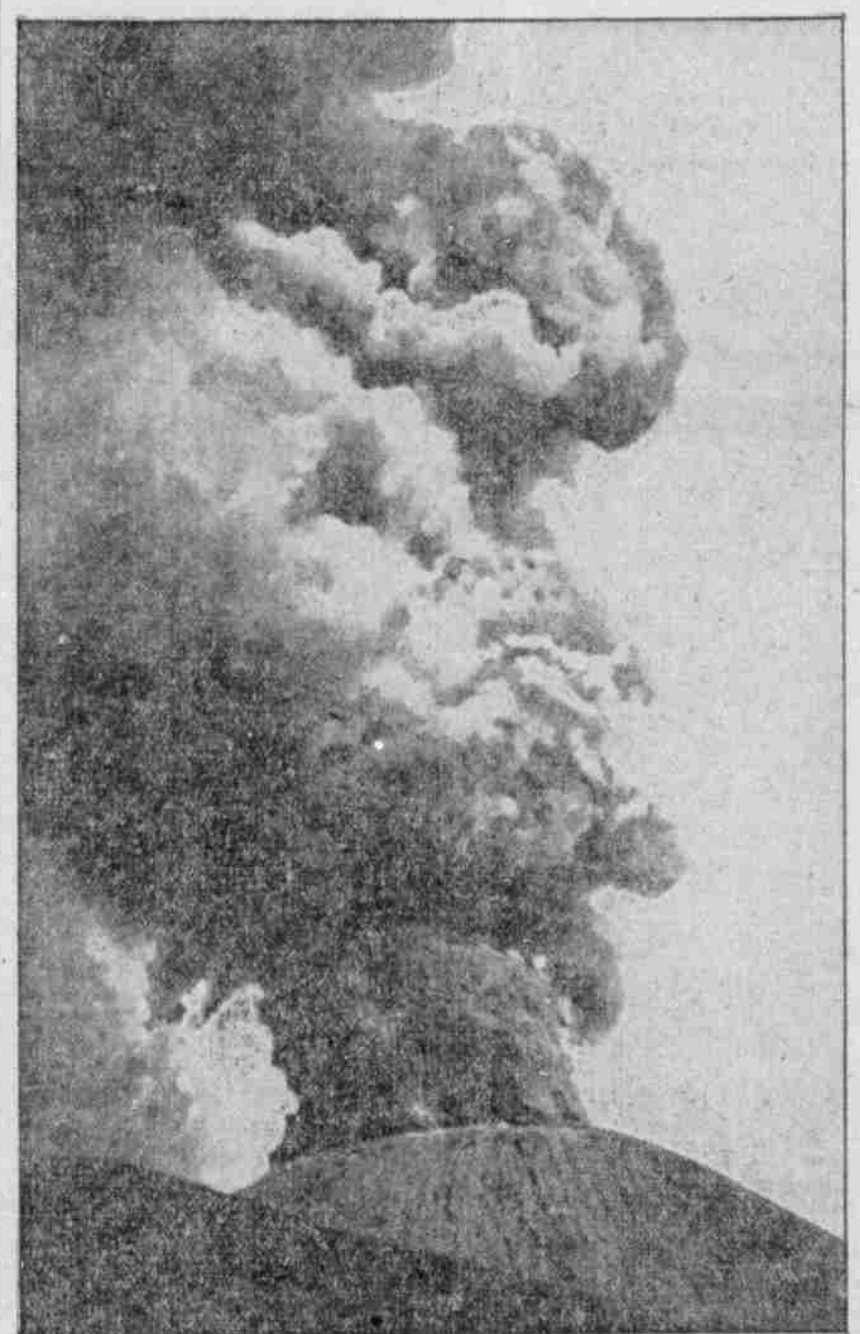

"Could you depend on your man?" queried the reporter.

"The picture you saw is the answer to that," replied Mr. Howe. "Of course, in moments of crisis the photographer depends on the photographer's impulses."

"You mean that the ruling passion is strong in death, when that passion is motion photography, just as if it was some other?"

"Exactly so," said Mr. Howe, "most of my photographers think more of their cameras than their lives. Of course, not all will act the same. In periods of great excitement, a man is likely to do one of three things: He will stand facing the danger, but inert and with paralyzed faculties; he will lose his grip on his mind until a great fear seizes him, which, in a crowd means panic; or else he will face the crisis with faculties excited to abnormal acuteness. I knew my man belonged to the last-named class. A dangerous assignment was natural for him, because he had covered so many."

THE ERUPTION OF MT. ETNA—LYMAN H. HOWE'S MOVING PICTURES, BARRE OPERA HOUSE WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3.

"The Wolf" Next Thursday.

One of the prettiest and most effective scenes in "The Wolf," the romantic play of Eugene Walter, to be seen at the opera house on next Thursday evening, is when the French-Canadian Jules Beaulieu, tell of his love for Hilda Beaulieu. The innocent girl of the woods does not know what love is, but she experiences what she terms "the great desire." Jules then speaks to her as follows: "Love is the great desire and all that live have it. In the spring, when the snow melts and the ice crashes down the river, when the pink flowers of the forest peep from underneath the snow-drifts, then the world is full of love. The ducks and the geese are noisy in their romances. The wolf kills night and day to feed the mother of his cubs. The bull-moose bellows in the pride of his fatherhood. The robin watches his bright-eyed mate on the next branch, waiting for those three little eggs to bring new life into the world. And all this, Hilda, is the love God wanted men to have. But it is not so, Hilda. Some men some time have aimed, and the great desire is not always good nor pure.

"Hilda, I have the great desire like all men. I have not always been good, but, having been bad, I have learned much, and now I always wish to be good. Love comes to a man in his loneliness and tears at his heart like the fangs of a wolf. I have been in the North when at noon, the red rim of a distant sun was the only message from the warmth and glow of the distant southland. And then, in the cold and loneliness, the great desire has come upon me. I loved, but somewhere I knew my mate was waiting, and I curl up among my dogs and sleep peacefully.

The original cast will be presented, including Rockwell Fellows, Milton Nobles, W. John M. Rine, Harvey Cassidy, Paula Wilkes and George Tucker.

"The Girl in the Taxi."

The press and the public of Paris, Berlin, Chicago, Boston and other cities where "The Girl in the Taxi" has been presented are unanimous in acclaiming it as the greatest laugh producing entertainment ever devised for the delight of theatre-goers who go to the playhouse to be amused. The long runs which "The Girl in the Taxi" has scored in these large and discerning amusement centers are infallible endorsements of the play's powers to delight the spectator. The Dayton Globe said: "The Girl in the Taxi" is one of the merriest

Combination Coal and Gas

Crawford Ranges

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe. They are lighted in a new way; there is no dangerous pilot light and explosions are impossible. This improvement is patented and very important.

The Damper is automatically opened by opening oven door to light the burners, which cannot be lighted until the door is opened.

In these Gas Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling; a great advantage over the ordinary gas oven, insuring better broiling and great convenience.

The Oven Bottoms and Racks are cast iron, and the outer walls are triple—an interlining of asbestos between two sheets of iron, which assists to retain the heat.

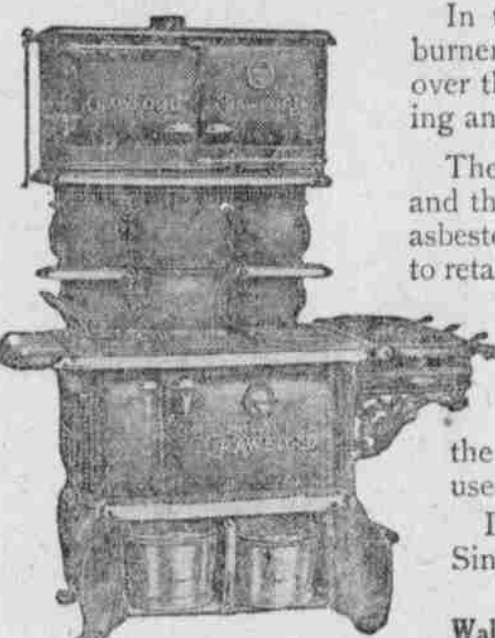

The use of these Gas Ovens does not interfere in any way with the operation of the coal range—both can be used at the same time.
